Sleepovers and residentials

If you want to take your unit away for a sleepover or longer residential event, you will need to complete the Going Away With scheme. This will equip you with all the practical elements of planning and running a residential. To find out more go to girlguiding.org.uk and search for Going Away With scheme.

Take on a supporting role

All levels of guiding need a whole range of skills to be successful, roles available include GO coordinators, administrators and treasurers.

Join a committee

Did you know that all units and levels of Girlguiding are charities in their own right? Members are always needed to support governance and share their grassroots knowledge and experience. Keep up to date with social media, newsletters and our vacancies page to find opportunities to interest you and allow you to shape the future of the charity we are all passionate about.

Event volunteering and recruitment stalls

A fun way to meet people and show the best Girlguiding has to offer, your local commissioner will welcome any volunteers. Think you know of an event that would benefit from Girlguiding attending? Divisions, counties and region hold resources, knowledge and experience to help get your idea off the ground!

Taking your girls abroad

You can trek abroad with your local unit, join a social action project, or represent girls at an international seminar. There are opportunities big, small, and suitable for all ages including lots of life-changing opportunities. Regular camps across the world give you a chance to really immerse yourself in an adventure abroad or you can join an international camp right here in the UK. To find out more go to girlguiding.org.uk and search for international adventures. You can work towards your international module as part of the Going Away With scheme.

Hautbois Activity Centre is an impressive 19th century country house. Our centre is the perfect multi-purpose events venue, with expertise in delivering activity visits and residential breaks for members of all ages.

Finding out what you need to know

We're dedicated to giving you opportunities to build your skills as a volunteer. We know that the whole charity, especially the girls, benefit when you are given chances to learn new things and grow.

There's a wide range of courses and qualifications to discover. Take a look at the 'learning opportunities' section of GO for more information.

Many of the training qualifications and additional training resources are now available as e-learning making it easier to stay up to date at a time and place that suits you.

Visit the Girlguiding website or log in to your GO account and click 'learning opportunities' to see a full list.

A Safe Space

Safe Space expires after 3 years. If you still hold a role that requires a particular level of training, you'll be reminded to renew it 3 months before it expires. Not all leaders who complete level 3 have a role that makes this level compulsory, so you may not get reminders and it'd be a good idea to plan ahead by checking your 'valid to' date in the 'my achievements' area of GO.

You'll need to attend a local training session for 1st response and complete the 1st response e-learning every 3 years to keep your knowledge up to date.

It'll train you to provide first aid to members in emergencies - in or outside of your unit meeting place. The course was created specifically for members of Girlguiding and The Scout Association.

Search 'first aid' on the Girlguiding website for more information.

Many elements of the leadership qualifications require renewing to keep knowledge fresh and up to date.
