

World Thinking Day 2026

100 years

Additional resources

A large, stylized rainbow graphic in shades of blue and green, partially visible at the top of the page.

Rainbows

Act it out

Scenarios	Emotions
"Carrying a flag at a parade"	sad
"Receiving a badge"	happy
"Making your promise"	scared
"Putting up a tent"	tired
"Toasting a marshmallow"	excited

Rainbows

Friendship and colours

Order of the colours:

Light blue – for the sky that we all live under

Dark blue and brown – one blue for light eyed people and one brown for dark eyed people

Green, black, blue, yellow red – for the colours represented in flags around the world.

Red, yellow, orange, green, blue, indigo, violet – a rainbow to connect all of us in spirit of friendship

Red – for hope

Brown – for the earth on which we stand

Rainbows

Campfire singing

Repeat after me – The Moose Song

[girlguides.ca/web/ON/Girl_Program/ON/Girl_Program/Ontario_Challenges/Sing
_Ontario_Sing/Lyrics/The_Moose_Song.aspx](http://girlguides.ca/web/ON/Girl_Program/ON/Girl_Program/Ontario_Challenges/Sing_Ontario_Sing/Lyrics/The_Moose_Song.aspx)

Action song – bumble bee song

[girlguides.ca/WEB/Documents/ON/Ontario%20Challenges/SOS%202019-
20/Ba_by_Bumble_Bee.pdf](http://girlguides.ca/WEB/Documents/ON/Ontario%20Challenges/SOS%202019-20/Ba_by_Bumble_Bee.pdf)

Traditional guiding song – thunderation

dragon.sleepdeprived.ca/songbook/songs4/S4_21.htm

A large, stylized rainbow graphic at the top of the page, with a blue arc on the left and a green arc on the right, both curving upwards.

Rainbows

Trust your team

Human knot game: stand in a circle, reach across to grasp the hands of two different people, and then work together to untangle themselves without breaking the chain of hands

Blindfold obstacle course: get into pairs. One of you is blindfolded, and the other leads your friend around the obstacle course. Swap roles!

Newspaper island: as a group you have two sheets of newspaper. You must always stay on the newspaper and make your way across the 'sea' to the other side.

Rainbows

Past and present

Rainbows
Then	Now
Rainbows dates back to 1965 for girls aged 4-7, but only in Northern Ireland. In 1987 Guiding in the UK launched rainbows for girls aged 5-7. The first rainbows uniform for the UK was a tabard over their regular clothes with a triangular cloth promise badge sewn in the centre of the chest.	The current uniform was released in 2004 and has not changed in the last 20 years. In 2023 they announced that they would be releasing a new uniform in 2026.

The logo for Rainbows is a stylized circular emblem. It features a blue and green abstract shape that resembles a rainbow or a globe. The word "Rainbows" is written in a bold, dark blue, sans-serif font across the center of the emblem.

Rainbows

Past and present

Brownies
Then	Now
In 1970 brownies introduced the iconic yellow top with a big logo on the front. In 1990 the new uniform design scheme was launched. The mix-match uniform was designed to make it more appropriate for each season.	The current uniform was released in 2004 and has not changed in the last 20 years. In 2023 they announced that they would be releasing a new uniform in 2026.

The logo features a stylized rainbow with blue and green segments. The word "Rainbows" is written in a bold, dark blue, sans-serif font across the center of the rainbow.

Rainbows

Past and present

Guides
Then	Now
This iconic uniform was introduced in 1990 with cotton polos and mix-match options. In 1989 blue jeans became official guide wear. The uniform was then changed in 2000 and 2005.	The current uniform was released in 2016 and has not changed in the last 20 years. In 2023 they announced that they would be releasing a new uniform in 2026.

Brownies

Mingle bingo

Has a pet dog	Is in the same year as me at school	Can play a instrument
Is a only child	Has their birthday the same month as me	Has visited another country
Can speak another language	Can knit or crochet	Owens a cat

Brownies

Guiding dash

Shorter version:

This is about the history of Thinking day, which is celebrated by Guides all across the world.

In 1926, exactly one hundred years ago, lots of girls were meeting with the Scouts for the 4th international conference. They had the idea to have a special day to celebrate the Brownies and other members, such as the guides all over the world. They chose the 22nd February as thinking day because it was the leader of the organisations birthday. Actually it was both Lord and Lady Baden-Powell's birthday because they shared the same date! A few years later, at the 7th world conference, someone said "just thinking out loud here... but don't birthdays usually come with gifts?". Someone suggested that everyone donate a penny to charity. The Brownies turned out their pockets - their leaders has told them to always have a coin on hand for a phone box! The Guides helped to lay the coins out in the shape of a Trefoil. All the girls stood back to admire their handiwork. How much money would they raise? They raised just over.... Five... hundred and forty pounds.

Every year since then, everyone in guiding around the world takes part in World Thinking Day. They raise a little money, to celebrate Baden-Powell's birthday, and remind everyone in Girlguiding - the leaders, Brownies, Rainbows, Rangers, Trefoil members, and Guides that she is part of one big family. Especially that this year is the one hundred anniversary!

THINKING – 3

GUIDES – 4

BROWNIES – 3

LEADER(S) – 3

GIRLS – 1

BIRTHDAY – 3

HUNDRED – 3

WORLD – 5

Brownies

Guiding dash

Longer version:

This is about the history of Thinking day, which is celebrated by Guides all across the world.

Every year, on World Thinking Day, hundreds and hundreds of Guides and Brownies and Leaders and even Rangers and Rainbows stop and remember that across the world Girlguiding is a massive family.

In 1926, exactly one hundred years ago, lots of girls were meeting with the Scouts for the 4th international conference. Everyone was excited because they were about to make history. They had the idea to have a special day to celebrate the Brownies, the Guides, and everyone else who was a part of Scouting and Guiding across the world.

They decided that this special day would be named World Thinking Day, so that all of Girlguiding would be thinking about everyone, as well as thinking about the future. And what better date than to choose a birthday! The leader of the movement, Lord Baden-Powell, had his birthday on the 22nd of February. Not to forget his wife, Lady Baden-Powell, the world chief Guide, also had her birthday on the 22nd of February. This shared birthday was the perfect reason to celebrate. Every leader was happy and agreed it was the best idea.

A few years later, at the 7th world conference, someone said: "Just thinking out loud here... but don't birthdays usually come with gifts?" Everyone laughed, but the Brownies thought it was a good idea. And the Guides thought it was a good idea. All of the girls thought it was a good idea.

Someone suggested that everyone donate a penny to charity. The Brownies turned out their pockets – their leaders had always told them to always have a coin in hand in case of emergencies. And back then the girls had to use a pay phone in a box!

The Guides and Brownies carefully helped to lay the coins out in the shape of a Trefoil. All the girls stood back to admire their handiwork for thinking day. How much money do you think they would they raise? Maybe.... Over.... One hundred pounds, or maybe even two hundred! Well the leaders told them they had raised just over five hundred and twenty pounds, which is over forty thousand in today's money! The girls were so happy.

And so every year since then, Guides and Brownies from all over the world have stopped on this special day. They stop to do some thinking. They remember their leaders, and all other members. They celebrate their birthday. They raise a little money. And they remind everyone in Girlguiding that she is part of one big family. Especially that this year is the one hundred anniversary!

THINKING – 8

GUIDE(S) – 7

BROWNIES – 6

LEADER(S) – 6

GIRLS – 5

BIRTHDAY(S) – 6

HUNDRED – 7

WORLD – 8

Brownies

Friends and colours

Order of the colours:

Light blue – for the sky that we all live under

Dark blue and brown – one blue for light eyed people and one brown for dark eyed people

Green, black, blue, yellow red – for the colours represented in flags around the world.

Red, yellow, orange, green, blue, indigo, violet – a rainbow to connect all of us in spirit of friendship

Red – for hope

Brown – for the earth on which we stand

Brownies

Campfire singing

Repeat after me – Pizza Man

Action song – There Was a Crocodile

Traditional guiding song – This Little Guiding Light of Mine

Closing Song – The World Song

Guides

History hustle

Learn about the history of Thinking Day in this fun game! Get into two lines, and face each other with your legs stretched out to touch their partner's. Each pair of girls will be given a word.

When you hear your word read out in the story, then you need to get up and run over the other pairs' legs to the top of the line, then run down the back of your line, and back up the line of legs to get back to your starting point. You can keep track of points for each side, if you want to make it competitive.

Shorter version:

This is about the history of Thinking day, which is celebrated by Guides all across the world.

In 1926, exactly one hundred years ago, lots of girls were meeting with the Scouts for the 4th international conference. They had the idea to have a special day to celebrate the Brownies and other members, such as the guides all over the world. They chose the 22nd February as thinking day because it was the leader of the organisations birthday. Actually it was both Lord and Lady Baden-Powell's birthday because they shared the same date! A few years later, at the 7th world conference, someone said "just thinking out loud here... but don't birthdays usually come with gifts?". Someone suggested that everyone donate a penny to charity. The Brownies turned out their pockets – their leaders has told them to always have a coin on hand for a phone box! The Guides helped to lay the coins out in the shape of a Trefoil. All the girls stood back to admire their handiwork. How much money would they raise? They raised just over.... Five... hundred and forty pounds.

Every year since then, everyone in guiding around the world takes part in World Thinking Day. They raise a little money, to celebrate Baden-Powell's birthday, and remind everyone in Girlguiding – the leaders, Brownies, Rainbows, Rangers, Trefoil members, and Guides that she is part of one big family. Especially that this year is the one hundred anniversary!

THINKING – 3

GUIDES – 4

BROWNIES – 3

LEADER(S) – 3

GIRLS – 1

BIRTHDAY – 3

HUNDRED – 3

WORLD – 5

Guides

History hustle

Longer version:

This is about the history of Thinking day, which is celebrated by Guides all across the world.

Every year, on World Thinking Day, hundreds and hundreds of Guides and Brownies and Leaders and even Rangers and Rainbows stop and remember that across the world Girlguiding is a massive family.

In 1926, exactly one hundred years ago, lots of girls were meeting with the Scouts for the 4th international conference. Everyone was excited because they were about to make history. They had the idea to have a special day to celebrate the Brownies, the Guides, and everyone else who was a part of Scouting and Guiding across the world.

They decided that this special day would be named World Thinking Day, so that all of Girlguiding would be thinking about everyone, as well as thinking about the future. And what better date than to choose a birthday! The leader of the movement, Lord Baden-Powell, had his birthday on the 22nd of February. Not to forget his wife, Lady Baden-Powell, the world chief Guide, also had her birthday on the 22nd of February. This shared birthday was the perfect reason to celebrate. Every leader was happy and agreed it was the best idea.

A few years later, at the 7th world conference, someone said: "Just thinking out loud here... but don't birthdays usually come with gifts?" Everyone laughed, but the Brownies thought it was a good idea. And the Guides thought it was a good idea. All of the girls thought it was a good idea.

Someone suggested that everyone donate a penny to charity. The Brownies turned out their pockets – their leaders had always told them to always have a coin in hand in case of emergencies. And back then the girls had to use a pay phone in a box!

The Guides and Brownies carefully helped to lay the coins out in the shape of a Trefoil. All the girls stood back to admire their handiwork for thinking day. How much money do you think they would they raise? Maybe.... Over.... One hundred pounds, or maybe even two hundred! Well the leaders told them they had raised just over five hundred and twenty pounds, which is over forty thousand in today's money! The girls were so happy.

And so every year since then, Guides and Brownies from all over the world have stopped on this special day. They stop to do some thinking. They remember their leaders, and all other members. They celebrate their birthday. They raise a little money. And they remind everyone in Girlguiding that she is part of one big family. Especially that this year is the one hundred anniversary!

THINKING – 8

GUIDE(S) – 7

BROWNIES – 6

LEADER(S) – 6

GIRLS – 5

BIRTHDAY(S) – 6

HUNDRED – 7

WORLD – 8

Guides

Scribbles and giggles

This game is like Chinese Whispers/Broken Telephone, but on paper! Everyone needs a pen and a piece of paper. The first person will draw something (see below for examples). The next person looks at their drawing and writes down in words what they are looking at. Then each person looks at their writing and draws it, and so on. This game works best if each player gets 30 seconds to write/draw, and you play in groups of up to 8.

You'll find that the picture changes quite a lot from the original!

This is why, if you have a disagreement with someone, it's best to speak to them about it directly, rather than messages getting muddled by going through a chain of people.

Examples:

Dog dancing at a disco

All you can eat pizza buffet

Narwhal eating a burger

Guides

News flash

2024 World Thinking Day Impact Report - how much money was raised and what the money is used for

1926 World Conference Report - Page 10 (print page 14) describes arriving at the camp, and pages 26-30 (print 30-34) is Lady Baden-Powell's speech

Summary timeline of things throughout Thinking Day history

The Guider \(March 1929\) - Page 1 and 2 describe the growth of the Guide/Scout movement

Guides

Friendship by design

"To help create your design, ask your partner fun questions to discover what makes them them! You could customise a poster, a keepsake box, or even a t-shirt to reflect them!

Questions could include:

- What's your most memorable guiding moment?
- What is your first memory of Girlguiding?
- What's your favourite colour?
- What is your favourite camp snack?
- What three words would your friends use to describe yourself?
- What's something you would/would not want on your design?

Then it's time to get designing; use colours they love, patterns and symbols linked to Girlguiding memories, and words or quotes that reflect them. Decorate them using fabric pens, gluing on felt, or (if you're feeling ambitious) embroidering on a design. When you're done you can gift your creations to your friend!

Guides

Campfire singing

Repeat after me – Pizza Man

Action song – There Was a Crocodile

Traditional guiding song – This Little Guiding Light of Mine

Closing song – The World Song

Rangers

Scribbles and giggles

This game is like Chinese Whispers/Broken Telephone, but on paper! Everyone needs a pen and a piece of paper. The first person will draw something (see below for examples). The next person looks at their drawing and writes down in words what they are looking at. The next person looks at their writing and draws it, and so on. This game works best if each player gets 30 seconds to write/draw, and you play in groups of up to 8.

You'll find that the picture changes quite a lot from the original!

This is why, if you have a disagreement with someone, it's best to speak to them about it directly, rather than messages getting muddled by going through a chain of people.

Examples:

Dog dancing at a disco

All you can eat pizza buffet

Narwhal eating a burger

Guider making their promise

Rangers

News flash

2024 World Thinking Day Impact Report - how much money was raised and what the money is used for 1926 World Conference Report - Page 10 (print page 14) describes arriving at the camp, and pages 26-30 (print 30-34) is Lady Baden-Powell's speech
Summary timeline of things throughout Thinking Day history
The Guider (March 1929) - Page 1 and 2 describe the growth of the Guide/Scout movement

Rangers

Friendship by design

Ask your partner fun questions to discover what makes them them!

Questions could include:

- What's your most memorable guiding moment?
- What is your first memory of Girlguiding?
- What's your favourite colour?
- What is your favourite camp snack?
- What three words would your friends use to describe yourself?
- What's something you would/would not want on your design?

Then it's time to get designing; use colours they love, patterns and symbols linked to Girlguiding memories, and words or quotes that reflect them. Decorate them using fabric pens, gluing on felt, or (if you're feeling ambitious) embroidering on a design. When you're done you can gift your creations to your friend!

Rangers

Campfire singing

The Princess Pat - youtube.com/watch?v=1Eii8Dws_eY

An Austrian Went Yodelling - youtube.com/watch?v=-75RZR1NlwU

Barges - youtube.com/watch?v=pt96sEWEL30

Canadian Taps - youtube.com/watch?v=M3Z5IPDQUc4

Rangers

Friendship knots

Resources:

- card (use old cereal boxes)
- scissors
- pencil
- cup (to trace a circle)
- 7 embroidery threads
- tape (helps with set up).

Set up of cardboard discs:

- 1) Draw and cut out circles from cardboard (8-10cm)
- 2) Poke a hole (big enough for threads to pass through) in the centre.
- 3) Around the edge of the circle, cut 8 notches evenly spaced.

Set up of threads:

- 1) Tie 7 threads together in a knot at one end. You could choose the colours to represent your favourite things about guiding, different parts of the guiding promise, or each of the different sections.
- 2) Put knot through centre of cardboard
- 3) Slot threads into each notch, and should have one empty notch.

Braiding:

- 1) Hold empty notch at the top (12 o'clock)
- 2) Count 3 notches clockwise from the empty space, moving that thread to the empty notch.
- 3) Rotate the wheel so the empty notch is at the top again.
- 4) Repeat, 3 clockwise to the empty notch.
- 5) Keep going until it's at the desired length.

Finishing:

- 1) Remove all threads from notches and tie a knot, cutting off excess thread.

Rangers

A letter across the world

Step 1:

Decorate your card.

Ideas: use blues and whites (official WAGGGS colours), include guiding symbols such as trefoil/campfires/flags or landmarks from the UK, add World Thinking Day motifs such as hearts and friendship.

Step 2:

Write your message.

Ideas: Introduce yourself and your unit, share something from your guiding life (favourite memory/activity), ask questions about their guiding life (special badge/life in other country), World Thinking Day message.

Step 3:

Keep or share. Up to units/individuals. You could either keep your letters/postcards. Or choose to send it (physically/virtually) internationally.